EBATING AN INVESTIGATION.

ffer's Bond Resolution the Cause of an Interesting Discussion.

LL'S REASON FOR OPPOSITION.

ays He Wishes to Protect the Senate from Making Itself Ridiculous—Pettigrew's Attack Upon the Bond Transaction.

Washington, May 5.—After the routine ning business had been disposed of the Senate to-day, Mr. Call (Dem.) of ida offered and asked immediate ideration for a resolution requesting President to protest against the exion of United States citizens and ed [illegible] by a Spanish cruiser, and to request and ge of the government of Spain that y shall not be subjected to cruel treatbut be held only as prisoners of he resolution was on the point of being ared by the Vice-President agreed to unanimous consent, when Mr. Wolcott p) of Colorado interposed with the re rk that if the facts were as stated by Call, (that the vessel was merely war material), it was the ut duty of the President to interfere. I it was rather unusual to request the sident to do his duty. He should like see how it looked in print. He therefore objected, and the resolution went r until to-morrow.

he Senate then proceeded to the ronration of House bills, "unobjected to," the calendar, and the bill to amend statute to improve the merchant maengineer service and thereby also to rease the efficiency of the naval reve (with an amendment) was passed. t this point, Mr. Frye (Rep.) of Maine, erposed and insisted on proceeding h the river and harbor bill up to 2 lock, when the Peffer resolution was have the right of way.

fter disposing of 30 pages of the bill, hour of 2 o'clock arrived and Mr. ye said he would not press the consideration of the bill further to-day.

Hill's Arguments.

he Peffer bond resolution was then en up and Mr. Hill (Dem.) of New k continued his argument begun yesday in opposition to it. Mr. Peffer e notice before Mr. Hill commenced remarks, that he would ask the Sen to remain in session to-day until the olution should be disposed of.

Hr. Hill said he had been asked yesterwhy he opposed the resolution. His wer was that he opposed it because it s wholly unnecessary and uncalled for would establish a most rapidlous unwise precedent. He wanted to that the Senate from making itself culous. It did that often enough with the adoption of the resolution. He uld not therefore vote for the resolu because such a vote would estimaim as an ignoramus, and in his gment every vote for it would be an nission in the part of the Senator ing it that he was an ignoramus. It s a foolish, a contemptible, an absurd olution. Of course there was no law first it. There was no law against the late making a fool of itself if it had mind to. He analyzed the various nts of the proposed inquiry, including authority for the issue of bonds. On t point Mr. Hill exclaimed: "Read the tutes and you will know. If you can understand them, resign your seats." here was nothing in the Graves bust; there was nothing in the whole fiand ge that was not as clear as the sunt of heaven. In connection with it he d an article from a Philadelphia newsper, which he said was in favor of a ocat Pennsylvania candidate for the publican nomination for the Presicy." (Laughter.)

s tending to bring into contempt the ocedure of proposing investigations of all jects, Mr. Hill read a letter, which had received, asking him to propose investigation as to the removal from ce of Governor Hughes of Arizona and ories of resolutions gotten up by the ti-Trust Legion of America—of Fifth nue, Brooklyn, which presented, he l, "a delightful mixture of investiga of the Brooklyn bridge, Brooklyn ets and Brooklyn highway robberies, finding a censure of myself."

was that sort of feeding, he said, ich Senators were truckling to. It was Populist sentiment. It was the mor against capital. It was the effort antagonize men of wealth. Senators re simply playing with fire. He also read several financial contracts of 1873 and 1878, to show that financial ificates were not a modern invention that although a government loan ht be called "a popular loan," it was capitalists who got the bonds. He that in the coming campaign he nted these Republican syndicate concts to stand side by side with the Carlisle syndicate contract.

r. Pettigrew (Rep.) of South Dakota ed Mr. Hill if he would yield the floor him to make some remarks on the ed resolution, and as Mr. Hill politely so, Mr. Pettigrew read what he called history of the bond sales of the present administration," their object being, said, to destroy the use of silver as ney, and to allow certain persons to lize enormous profits.

r. Pettigrew took much stress upon defaulted Graves bid for four and half million dollars, and on the fact bonds had secretly allotted to syndicate at its bid of 110 7-10, although the "Investment Corporation of w York" had made an offer of 111½ for the bonds of defaulted Ohio. This on the part of the Secretary of the asury, Mr. Pettigrew said, had given profit of $19,000 to Morgan & Co., and intimated that that profit had been divided between the Secretary of the Treasand that syndicate of bankers.

hat, seemed, he said, to be the sum, stance and gist of the whole transcr, which was "rotten and dishonest corrupt to the core." It was therequite proper for the Senate to inigate it thoroughly.

r. Pettigrew then criticized Mr. Sherfor his endorsement of the Presit and Secretary of the Treasury in bond transaction.

r. Hill inquired who was more conent to speak on that subject than the ator from Ohio.

My answer would be a matter of opin," Mr. Pettigrew replied. "I do not bt that the Senator from New York the Morgan syndicate will forever claim that the Senator from Ohio is best authority that can possibly be n so long as he openly sides with the ter of the people and the robbery the treasury."

he matter went over with Mr. Hill occupying the floor.

r. Allison (Rep.) of Iowa inquired of Peffer when he expected to reach a e on the bond resolution.

r. Peffer thought that a vote would ely be reached to-morrow.

r. Allison. Why not have unanimous sent to have the vote fixed for a definite hour to-morrow?

r. Hill—It is impossible to fix a date r.

HOUSE.

Washington, May 5.—The battle over the al appropriation bill was fought in the House to-day again and there was a more vigorous opposition to the provisions authorizing the construction of four battleships than was made when the bill was originally under consideration, when the fight was between four and six battleships. But the effort to concur in the Senate amendment, reducing the number from four to two, was defeated—yeas 91, nays 141.

The fight was not at all partisan. Mr. Sayers (Dem.) of Texas made the motion to concur and was ably supported by Mr. Cannon (Rep.) of Illinois, chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, who pointed out that with only two battleships provided for, the revenues of the government for the four years of the next administration, which he said would be those of a Republican President, would be mortgaged by the appropriation bills of this session to the extent of twenty-five millions a year. Mr. Boutelle (Rep.) of Maine, chairman of the Committee on Naval Affairs, stoutly maintained the desirability and propriety of constructing four ships, and he was assisted in the argument by Mr. Cummings (Dem.) of New York.

The latter arraigned the Senate for its action upon appropriation and revenue bills in the last Congress, asserting that it had virtually violated the provisions of the Constitution in the respect of the former, and as to the latter had compelled the House to agree to a tariff bill full of blunders from which the country had ever since been suffering.

The request for a Senate conference in the naval appropriation bill was agreed to after the vote upon Mr. Sayer's motion.

The first business transacted was the election, after a vigorous debate on the pension policy of the two parties between Mr. Henderson (Rep.) of Iowa and Mr. Crisp (Dem.) of Georgia, of a resolution reported from the Committee on Rules setting apart Wednesday, the 6th and 13th days, for the consideration of private pension bills, 10 minutes debate only being allowed on each bill. This was agreed to—172 to 53, five Democrats voting for it and one Republican (Loud of California) against it.

Mr. Rudolph Kleberg (Dem.), successor to the late W. H. Crane (Rep.), from the Eleventh Texas district, was sworn in.

At 4:10 o'clock the House adjourned.

INDICTED A BANK CLERK.

Peculiar Features in an Embezzlement Case.

Chicago, May 5.—George Taylor, a bank clerk, who was in the employ of William C. Niblock, receiver of the Columbia National bank in 1894, but who is now a fugitive from justice in South America, was indicted by the Federal grand jury to-day for embezzling $7,500 of the bank's funds by raising checks and altering the accounts of the bank's creditors. It is understood he has been located and will be extradited.

A peculiar feature of the case is that a national bank cashier of this city who had issued a $25 check in payment of Taylor's weekly salary, guaranteed its genuineness after it had been raised to $2,500 and sent to him by a suspicious bank teller. Mr. Niblock, on whom the loss falls, has been hunting Taylor with detectives for two years and this is the first public mention of the case.

ANOTHER GASOLINE EXPLOSION.

Three Persons Burned to Death and One Seriously Injured.

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 5.—By the explosion of a gasoline stove in a flat house at the corner of Bushwick and Johnson avenues, this morning, three persons were burned to death and one person seriously injured.

Mrs. Rebecca Cohen attempted to heat a gasoline stove in the kitchen of her apartments about 6:30 o'clock this morning, when the stove exploded. The woman's clothing caught fire and she ran to her two children, Carl, 11 months old, and Solomon, 3 years old, and clasped them in her arms, setting their clothes on fire. The woman then ran across the hallway to the apartments of her sister, Mrs. Pastaneck, screaming loudly for help.

Mrs. Pastaneck endeavored to extinguish the fire in which her sister was enveloped, and in doing so her own clothing caught. Mrs. Pastaneck, with her clothing on fire, ran to her two children, Solomon, 8 years old, and Rosie, 2 years old, and filled them in her arms. The two women and the four children, their clothing ablaze, then ran into the hallway. Help soon arrived and Mrs. Cohen was taken to St. Catharine's hospital, but died before reaching there. Mrs. Pastaneck was found in a corner of the hallway and the Cohen children were found badly burned in Mrs. Cohen's apartments. They were taken to St. Catharine's hospital, but Carl died shortly after reaching there. It is expected that Solomon Cohen will recover. The Pastaneck children were removed to the hospital, but they are so badly burned that the physicians have little hope of saving them.

Isaac Kuschaw, who attempted to put out the fire, seized a siphon bottle, which exploded in his hands. A piece of glass struck him over the right eye, causing a bad but not dangerous wound. The loss by the fire is $100.

ONE PENSION FRAUD.

William Lee Impersonated His Soldier Brother.

Lincoln, Neb., May 5.—William Lee, a paralytic, who, according to his own confession, fraudulently drew a pension for years in Iowa by impersonating his brother, Morgan Lee, a war veteran, came to Lincoln yesterday and applied to Commissioner of Public Lands and Buildings Russell for admission to the Soldiers' Home.

He was still masquerading as Morgan Lee, but Colonel Russell, who served in an Iowa company and knew the genuine Morgan Lee, denounced the bogus brother, thereby forcing a confession from him to the effect that he had, with two other men whose names he would not give, put in a claim for a pension and drawn the money. William Lee never served in the war and of course will not be admitted to the home.

Safe Blown Open.

Cedar Rapids, Ia., May 5.—Last night the store of Frank Novak at Walford, a small station 18 miles south, was entered, the safe blown open and $2,000 in cash and $1,000 in notes taken. Novak is engaged in general merchandising and grain buying and received deposits from other merchants in a small way. There is no clue to the robbers.

Graves' Suit Discontinued.

Washington, May 5.—The suit of Broker Wm. Graves, of New York city, against Secretary Carlisle, to compel the latter to accept his bid for $4,500,000 of the recent issue of four per cent. bonds, made to Graves, has been discontinued at the request of Graves but no reason for it was given.

A Noted Insurance Suit.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 5.—By a decision of Judge Bedell to-day in the noted suit of Mrs. Lora Perkins to collect insurance on the life of Mrs. Lola Hawkins, the Security Mutual Life Insurance company is given a verdict on the ground of falsehood in the application for the policy. Mrs. Perkins was arrested at the time on the charge of murdering Mrs. Hawkins, who died as the result of a lamp accident, but the grand jury refused to indict. It was shown that the woman's claims to be a sister were false.

PREPARING FOR A CONVENTION.

Indiana Republicans Gathering at Indianapolis.

FEAR OF GENERAL HARRISON.

Belief that His Appearance at the Convention Would Stampede the Delegates and Ruin Chances of McKinley Instructions.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 5.—Nearly all of the Republican leaders of the state have arrived here to attend the state convention, which meets in Tomlinson's hall Thursday morning. The gathering promises to be one of the biggest on record.

The principal features will be the fight on instructions between the McKinley and the old Harrison faction, the effort to induce General Harrison to address the convention, which is being bitterly opposed by the McKinleyites, a nomination of a state ticket, and the attempt of Charles Fairbanks to show his strength by having himself chosen as a delegate at large to the St. Louis convention. Fairbanks is a Senatorial candidate and if he can land the St. Louis honor it may be taken as an indication that he can also land the Senatorship.

The prospect of the appearance of General Harrison at the convention has sent a thrill of terror into the McKinley ranks. They fear that such a thing will stampede the delegates and ruin their chances of getting instructions for their champion. General Harrison has been invited to speak, but he has not yet replied to the invitation. The general belief is that under the circumstances and knowing as he does the effect that his appearance in the conference hall might have, he will decline to accept the honor.

For Governor there are thirteen candidates, all of whom seem to have a fair following, with Major Doxey of Anderson, slightly in the lead.

The platform will be short and although there has recently been a show made on the part of the free silver advocates, it can safely be said that the convention will declare for sound money.

On all sides is heard talk as to the probability of General Harrison's name being sprung at St. Louis. It is claimed that an emergency might arise which would warrant the use of his name, despite his distinct and expressed wishes to the contrary, and this is said to be one reason why the anti-McKinley crowd will fight to the death rather than permit the Indiana delegation to be sent to St. Louis with instructions for the Ohio man.

CALIFORNIA CONVENTION.

Very Little Accomplished in the First Day's Session.

Sacramento, Cal., May 5.—The Republican state convention met in this city at 2 o'clock this afternoon for the purpose of electing delegates to the national convention at St. Louis.

F. B. Cornwall, chairman of the state central committee, called the convention to order and in a short address, congratulated the Republican party on its success and brilliant prospects. The convention then proceeded with the work of temporary organization, E. A. Arthur of Pasadena being chosen chairman and Frank D. Ryan of Sacramento, secretary. Arthur, upon taking the chair made a few brief remarks. After passing a motion for the appointment of a committee of fifteen on credentials, the convention took a recess until 4:30 p. m.

After hearing the resolutions of a few of the counties, the convention appointed a committee on platform and resolutions, credentials and order of business, after which it adjourned until 10 a. m. tomorrow morning, to enable the committees to formulate resolutions and report.

WILL VOTE FOR McKINLEY.

Duty of the Hour Is Recognition of the Majority Sentiment.

New York, May 5.—Hon. Thos. Bradley, of Orange county, delegate to the national Republican convention from the Seventeenth Congressional district of New York, who was elected without instructions, but counted for Morton, has issued the following statement: "No additional honor can now come to Levi P. Morton through a continuance of his Presidential candidacy. The duty of the hour is prompt and hearty recognition of the great majority sentiment within our party that would nominate McKinley by acclamation. With all the respect and regard for Governor Morton that held me to his support, while a reasonable chance of his nomination existed, I shall now heed the general desire of the business men in my section and vote for Major McKinley on the first ballot."

PARTY RATES.

Legal Aspects of the Question Considered by Western Roads.

Chicago, May 5.—Executive officers of the Western railroads met here to-day to hear and act on the report of the committee which has been working out the details of a restrictive mileage ticket and also to consider the party rate question in its legal aspect.

A committee of executive officers was appointed to see how far the interstate law operated against giving reduced rates to legitimate organized parties only and it is known the railroad attorneys have given the word to go ahead. No decisive action was taken at the morning session of the matter and the officials adjourned until to-morrow.

On the party rate question the raw obstacle is presented by a few roads, the Wisconsin Central, Great Western and others, who insist that in the territory east of the Missouri river the reduced rates must be given to all parties of 10 or more. In transmissouri territory the agreement has already been reached to give rates to organized parties only.

METHODIST CONFERENCE.

Woman Question Still the One Absorbing Topic.

Cleveland, O., May 5.—Bishop Andrews called the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church to order this morning at 9 o'clock.

At 10 o'clock the debate on the woman question was resumed. Daniel Stevenson, president of the Union College, Kentucky, spoke for the admission of the women. He said: "The time has gone by when anybody shall be excluded from church offices on account of the race, color or sex."

The Rev. Dr. Neeley of Philadelphia, who is leading the fight against the women, said: "This question is not one that involves chivalry or popular demand. You can't ordain women. It is a part of Methodism that the governing power is with the men."

John E. Coples of Portland, Ore., said: "I came from a land where the grand women of the Methodist church have done so much for Methodism that it is time we men think of it, and take off our hats."

James Harlan of Iowa, ex-United States Senator, and member of Lincoln's Cabinet, said: "Ministers and laymen constitute the membership of this body. The whole question turns on the question, who are the laymen? The general conference has decided that laymen are all those who are not members of the annual conferences. Women are not members of the annual conferences. Now, by what right or what interpretation of the law of the church do you intend to keep women out? The word laymen means non-professional, and in the Methodist church it means all members except those who are professional."

The Rev. Dr. Buckley of New York: "The only time the conference has ever undertaken to do so violent an act as it now proposes to do was before the war when it blotted the church." That act has been condemned to-day by the leading Methodists. If you admit the women in this hot-house of jance, it will be the place of despair. It will disgrace the conference and stir up men to do as they please. Pause, brethren, before you commit this awful mistake."

Other warm speeches were made by President Harris of the East Maine conference; James F. Chaffee of Minneapolis, J. H. Day of New York, Rev. Dr. Emery Miller of Des Moines, Jos. H. R. Brill of Minnesota, for and against the admission of women.

The Rev. Dr. Jacob Rothweiler of the Central German conference, said: "I am looked upon as the representative of the Germans. We as a people do not believe in sentiment, and we think it neither right nor constitutional to admit women to the general conferences. It has been charged that we Germans do not like women in the annual conferences. I wave, I am proud of it. I rejoice in it, because we have saved the day delegates. If we adopt the majority report you will demoralize the church."

The Rev. Dr. Charles F. Stafford of Iowa moved that a vote be taken on the question at 10 a. m. to-morrow. Rev. H. L. Gray of St. Louis wanted more time. Rev. Stafford's motion ordering the previous question was laid on the table.

The conference then adjourned until 8:30 a. m. to-morrow, when the debate on the woman question will be resumed.

COLONEL NORTH—DEAD.

An Adventurer Who Came to be Known as the Nitrate King.

London, May 6. Colonel North, known as "the Nitrate King," died suddenly in the office of the Guano Syndicate this afternoon. He was seized with an illness after partaking of some oysters and died within half an hour.

The shells of the oysters which he ate were taken possession of by the police for the purpose of ascertaining if the oysters were fit to be eaten, though the general supposition is that Col. North died from heart trouble.

Col. J. T. North was a native of Leeds and owed his sobriquet to the fact of having accumulated immense wealth through nitrate beds lying partly in Peru and partly in Chile. Through clever manoeuvering Colonel North and his syndicate obtained governmental concessions which confirmed him in possession of these valuable deposits and in this way secured a practical monopoly of the trade of the world. The profits, long unsuspected, were tremendous. They made of Col. North, otherwise an adventurer, one of the wealthiest men in the British empire. The possession of this wealth made him socially ambitious.

It is said that he contributed vast sums in the shape of gifts to the Prince of Wales and it is undoubtedly true that he let that gentleman in on the ground floor in various enterprises, which marvelously fattened the prince's exchequer. In the course of time he became one of the recognized friends of the Prince of Wales and patronized the turf on a scale of liberality which others might envy, but could not hope to excel.

In January, 1895, he presented Kirkshall Abbey and grounds to his native town and also made handsome contributions to the funds of the Leeds infirmary and the Yorkshire college of Science. He received the honorary freedom of the borough on January 25, 1889.

In this way he was a remarkable man; but with peculiarities which prevented him from either being beloved or becoming popular.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Louisville-New York.

Louisville, May 5.—Louisville defeated New York through hard hitting and Fuller's errors. Attendance 500. Score: Louisville 15, New York 11.

Cleveland-Washington.

Cleveland, May 5.—Washington won from Cleveland to-day by superior team work and sharp fielding. One thousand people saw the contest. Score: Cleveland 2, Washington 5.

Cincinnati-Boston.

Cincinnati, May 5.—Lack of team work on the part of the locals, great fielding by the visitors and inability of the Reds to hit Jack Stivetts's curves when his were needed, tells the story of to-day's game. Attendance 300. Score: Cincinnati 2, Boston 5.

Pittsburg-Baltimore.

Pittsburg, May 5.—Pittsburg could not hit Pond at all to-day. Killen, on the other hand, was hit freely. Bradley's batting and the fielding of Bierbauer and Jennings were the features. Attendance 350. Score: Pittsburg 0, Baltimore 8.

Chicago-Brooklyn.

Chicago, May 5.—The game to-day was another with a heart-breaker finish that set the cranks fairly wild. The Colts had the bases full in the last half of the tenth inning, with nobody out. Anson was on third and Lange at bat. He knocked out a swift liner to right and Anderson made a beautiful catch and threw Anson out at the plate. The next man up died on an infield drive. Score: Chicago 6, Brooklyn 7.

St. Louis-Philadelphia.

St. Louis, May 5.—Great Willis's pieces in the ninth inning to-day when the game seemed safe for the locals and Hart relieved him. Both were wild and the Philadelphias won with runs to spare. Attendance 2000. Score: St. Louis 5, Philadelphia 9.

A House Collapsed.

Chicago, May 5.—At 2:15 o'clock this afternoon, while Daniel Ross, a carpenter, was raising a house at 109 West Fourteenth street, by means of jackscrews, the house collapsed, burying Ross and the occupants in the ruins. Ross was quickly dug out by the police and taken to the county hospital, fatally injured. Charles Tragnitz, his sister, Jennie, and a little girl named Edna, occupants of the house, were also buried in the ruins, but all escaped serious injury. It is supposed some of the jackscrews gave away causing the house to collapse.

Dominated by the Pitchfork.

Columbia, S. C., May 5.—Comparatively full reports received from the Democratic county convention held yesterday indicate that the state convention to be held here on the 20th will be almost unanimously for silver and will be dominated by Senator Tillman. It is interesting to note that so far as heard from not a single convention has endorsed Senator Tillman for a place on the national ticket. This is taken as an indication that his friends think that his best chance is in another party.

Baron Hirsch's Bequests.

London, May 5.—The Telegraph says that the bulk of the wealth of the late Baron de Hirsch, amounting to several millions of pounds, has, by his will, been entrusted to the Jewish Colonization Society, for the continuation of the work. The sum of one million francs is bequeathed to charities in Moravia.

HAMMOND WAS TOO ANXIOUS.

He Wanted Reforms and Was Fearfully Misled.

A PERSONAL FRIEND'S OPINION.

Petition for Clemency Signed by Thirty-Five Members of Congress Will be Taken to the Transvaal—Question of Expulsion.

New York, May 5.—Fletcher Webster Jewell, who secured the signatures of thirty-five members of Congress to a petition for clemency for John Hayes Hammond, the American sentenced to death for treason by the Transvaal government, is in the city. Mr. Jewell is an American, but has lived in Johannesburg three years and is a personal friend of Mr. Hammond. Mr. Jewell will start for the Transvaal Saturday and will take the petition with him.

"I am a Transvaal man through and through," Mr. Jewell said today. "But I naturally feel a great deal of sympathy for my countryman in prison. They are suffering because they got in with a bad crowd and were misled. They got into the revolutionary schemes too deeply to withdraw without the imputation of being traitors and cowards.

"It is possible that decisive action will have been taken when I reach Johannesburg, but I shall present the petition to the President unless the prisoners have been liberated.

"To obtain any concession from the Boer government it must be dealt with fairly and respectfully. Nothing can be gained by dealing through the English officials.

"The Boers hate the English, but they favor Americans. Hammond has done great work in the gold fields and was one of the popular men in the Transvaal, but he was fearfully misled. He was anxious for reform but should have waited for reforms obtained under the Boer government.

"Cecil Rhodes and Jameson were anxious to annex the Transvaal to the British possessions. The only ones in Johannesburg who were fully cognizant of these plans were Colonel Rhodes, Lionel L. Phillips, Charles Leonard and George Farrar, but the Americans, when they finally obtained knowledge of the real object of the uprising refused to join it.

"I believe the imprisoned Americans will be freed soon. They may be excluded from the territory as punishment, but I don't think this course will be taken with Hammond as he is (no valuable a man for the development of the mining resources of the country."

THE PLOT THICKENS.

London Truth Claims to Have Additional Detail of Conspiracy.

London, May 5.—Truth claims to have unearthed additional details of the conspiracy leading up to the Jameson raid, which paints the participators in the plot in still darker colors than have the disclosures made by the Transvaal government. Truth says it is credibly informed that President Kruger possesses evidence that the intention of Dr. Jameson was to march upon Pretoria first, to seize President Kruger and then to proceed to Johannesburg with the President as a prisoner.

In an editorial the paper dilates in still more embittered terms on the Jameson raid. Its says: "The main object of the raid was to annex the rich mining district of the Transvaal to Rhodesia.

"It is obvious that the first news of the raid would cause a fall of shares. I am prepared to prove that a syndicate was formed just prior to the raid, including a leading director in and one of the chief officials in the British Chartered South African company, for the purpose of making large bear sales. The seed having thus been sown for securing a profit by the immediate fall and an ultimate profit by buying when the raid was successful and a rich slice of the Transvaal had been added to chartered land, steps were taken to carry out the conspiracy.

"The tenor of the 'cryptograms' shows that there was a divergence of opinion between the Rhodes (Cecil Rhodes and his brother Col. Francis Rhodes), and Alfred Beits, representatives among the reformers, and that those not connected with the gang were responsible for the failure of the scheme. These telegrams are damning alike to the Chartered company and to Mr. Rhodes. It is clear that the raid was planned by Cecil Rhodes, Alfred Beit and the secretary of the Chartered South African company. The telegram from Hammond to Rhodes saying: 'Can not arrange respective interests without Beit,' shows that the aim was purely for a stock exchange deal. These miscreants, therefore, planning a raid which must have led to the death of many and which was based on robbery, were actually already disputing in regard to their respective shares of the plunder."

The article then proceeds to severely attack Cecil Rhodes, comparing him to Jabez Balfour, "the first statesman to apply to imperial politics the methods of the shady company promoter."

Truth then concludes as follows: "Had Cecil Rhodes remained Premier of Cape Colony, I am convinced that as soon as it suited his purpose he would have turned on us (the British government) and sought to cut the chain which binds us to South Africa."

ROBINSON'S DENIAL.

He Says He Had No Suspicion of Jameson's Intended Raid.

London, May 5.—In the House of Commons yesterday, Mr. Chamberlain, replying to a question by T. C. Bowles, Conservative, said that the governor had no information that Mr. Cecil Rhodes had given his pledge that the Imperial government would not interfere to prevent Dr. Jameson's raid into the Transvaal. He had no communication with Mr. Rhodes or anyone else relative to the exercise of the imperial authority in the event of a raid.

Mr. Chamberlain then alluded to the suggestion which had been made that the "Chairman," mentioned in the cipher dispatches found among Dr. Jameson's effects when he was captured by the Boers and recently published by the Transvaal authorities, was identical with Sir Hercules Robinson, governor of Cape Colony. Referring to this matter, he said he had received a telegram from Sir Hercules Robinson, in which he said: "Chairman means Jameson. I never received from anyone, in any shape, even a hint of what was about to take place, and was so completely in the dark that I never had the slightest suspicion of what was going on or intended. The discovery, on December 30, that Jameson had entered the Transvaal, came upon me like a thunderbolt from a blue sky. If there is any insinuation to the contrary, I rely upon you to protect my character in my absence."

The reading of this telegram was received with cheers. Mr. Chamberlain added: "I place implicit confidence in Sir Hercules Robinson."

The directors of the British South Africa company held a meeting yesterday, at which they discussed the connection of certain officers and directors of the company with the projected overthrow of the Transvaal government. It was finally decided that Messrs. Rhodes and Beit should be asked to resign.

Feeling of the Liberals.

London, May 5.—Sir William Vernon Harcourt, leader of the opposition in the House of Commons, spoke at a meeting to-night of the National Liberal club. In the course of the speech he said the state of affairs in South Africa was deplorable. The recent startling monumtous revelations must be discussed by Parliament in order to get at the bottom of the transactions which had cast a dark shadow on England's name. The Liberals, he added, would support the government, as he believed, would take measures to clear the national reputation from complicity in the Transvaal raid.

Rhodes Left a Resignation.

London, May 5.—The Daily Times will tomorrow say it is understood that before he returned to Africa, Cecil Rhodes left his resignation with the directors of the British South African company, to be tendered whenever desired.

Amicably Settled.

London, May 5.—The Times will tomorrow publish a dispatch from Singapore saying it is reported from Tien Tsin that the question of the concession of land to Germany has been amicably settled, the United States having yielded certain of their rights. The area of the German concession exceeds the combined British and French concessions.

Another Instance.

Paris, May 5.—The Pretoria correspondent of The Temps reaffirms that Sir Henry Brougham Leech, now Lord Leech of Dryaw, when Governor of Cape Colony and British high commissioner in South Africa, offered to aid a revolutionary movement in the Transvaal and this in face of Lord Leech's denial of the original report.

St. Paul Went Republican.

St. Paul, Minn., May 5.—In a vote of 25,000 today Frank B. Doran, Republican, was elected mayor by a majority of about 2,200. Joseph J. McCardy, Republican, was chosen comptroller by 3,000 and Horst, Republican treasurer by 1,500. The Republicans elected nine assemblymen and ten of the eleven aldermen. The city is nominally Democratic by about 1,000.

For McKinley.

Sacramento, Cal., May 5.—The Sixth congressional convention today renominated Congressman James McLaughlin of Pasadena. Resolutions in favor of the instruction of the delegates to St. Louis to vote for McKinley and the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 were adopted. The Second district convention also adopted McKinley resolutions.

A Royal Marriage.

Copenhagen, May 5.—Princess Louise, eldest daughter of Crown Prince Frederick and Prince Frederick of Schaumburg-Lippe were married this evening at the Amalienborg palace in the presence of the King and Queen and a large number of relatives.

Assigned.

To Improve the City.

A committee of ladies appointed by the Tuesday club from among their members met the executive committee of the Village Improvement society yesterday to suggest ways in which the ladies of the town can co-operate with the society in promoting the objects in which all are interested. It was decided that the Village Improvement society is to invite the women's clubs of the city to a meeting at the Coburn library, Monday, May 18th, at 3 p. m., at which Mrs. Grenoll will read a paper on street cleaning as it is carried on in the different cities of the country. This paper was read before the Tuesday club in April and excited great interest. President Slocum will make a few remarks on the work done by the society this spring.

The Village Improvement society has offered $150 towards putting in order the grounds of the Lowell school, if the school board will give the same amount. It is thought and hoped that subscriptions can be secured for the rest of the money needed.

The executive committee of the society has decided to offer a prize of $10 for the best essay on "Village Improvement in Our City." The competing essays are to be sent in on or before July 1 to the assistant secretary, Miss Brinley, P. O. box 92. The essays will be passed upon by judges hereafter to be appointed.

At the meeting yesterday it was suggested that the citizens take action to eradicate the dandelions before they go to seed this year.

A. O. H. Convention.

The State convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians is now in session in this city. There are about 40 delegates present who come from Arapahoe, Gilpin, Clear Creek, Gunnison, Lake, Fremont and Pitkin counties.

The sessions of the convention are of course secret. The business yesterday, however, was the reading of reports of committees and the discussion of the revision of the by-laws. To-day officers will be elected and the business of the convention completed. The present officers of the society are: P. J. McEnery of Denver, president, M. J. Ryan of Central, secretary, and P. J. Sheehan of Pueblo, treasurer. All are present.

This afternoon the members of the local society will take their guests in carriages and give them a drive to the Garden of the Gods and Manitou. They will leave the hall at 2 o'clock.

In Memoriam.

On Tuesday morning, after chapel, the students of the college and academy unanimously adopted the following resolutions on the death of Professor Krauss:

Whereas, It has pleased God to call from our midst Professor E. C. F. Krauss; and

Whereas, Professor Krauss was honored and respected by all the students of Colorado college and Cutler academy, it is

Resolved, That we, the student body, deeply missing his presence in his wonted place, do hereby express our sorrow and sense of loss at his departure, and our sincere and heartfelt sympathy for his beloved relatives in their present sorrow.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of Professor Krauss, and that a copy be sent to the Gazette for publication.

Capell-Fleming.

Mr. H. G. Capell and Miss Lillie Fleming, both of this city, were united in marriage last night at the Methodist parsonage, Rev. C. A. Crane officiating. The wedding was a very quiet affair, only a few friends being present.

Mr. and Mrs. Capell left on the Rock Island immediately after the wedding to spend a month or two on their ranch in the eastern part of this state. They will be at home in this city to their friends in July.

PARTY OF FIFTY FILIBUSTERERS.

Rumors of Enlistment of New Jersey Militiamen

READY TO EMBARK FOR CUBA.

It is Said Agents of the Cuban Junta Have Been Recruiting—Belief that an Expedition Will Soon be Ready.

Newark, N. J., May 5.—Rumors were rife here all day today that a party of fifty filibusters would leave the city some time tonight for Perth Amboy to embark for Cuba, but they could not be traced to any authoritative source. Agents of the Cuban Junta, it is said, have been recruiting and several members of the National Guard of New Jersey are reported to have enlisted as sharpshooters under a captain named John Davis, whose address and whereabouts are unknown.

A high military official said to be close to General Maceo is reported to be at the head of the movement.

The best information at hand tonight is to the effect that such a scheme has been hatching for several weeks and that the party will be ready to move in about two weeks.

At the city armory it was said tonight that ten men had left for the headquarters of the Junta in New York. It is believed that the expedition, if one has been organized, will leave Perth Amboy on a tug and reach a steamer outside of Sandy Hook.

CUBAN WAR NEWS.

Reported Engagements in Which Rebels Were Worsted.

Havana, May 5.—Two rebel bands attacked the town of Guanajay, but were repulsed with heavy loss.

Heavy firing has been heard near Cabanas, but no details of any fighting as to that place have been reported.

Colonel Tork reports that his command has had an engagement with the rebels under Agramonte near San Nicolas, province of Havana. The rebels lost seven killed. The troops lost a surgeon and one private wounded. Parties of rebels attacked the towns of Banchuelo, Esparanza, Vega Alta, but were repulsed.

Colonel Delgado reports that he has captured a rebel camp near Rodas, in the Cienfuegos district. Ten rebels were killed and one captured. The troops lost only one killed.

Insurgents have tried to damage with dynamite the tracks, bridges and culverts of the railway between Matanzas and Havana.

Fifty are reported from different sections of the island.

The trial of the men who were captured on the schooner Competitor, which was landing a filibustering expedition when seized by a Spanish warship, is believed to have resulted in the acquittal of two of the prisoners. The others have been sentenced to be shot. The prisoners are Julio Sanguily, Emilio Nunez and Pedro Delgado.

Dr. Jose Manuel Delgarto, who was almost killed by Spanish troops, has recovered from the effects of his injuries. He will sail Saturday for the United States.

The rebel leader Borrego and 12 other insurgents have surrendered to the authorities at Guisa de Manzanillo, province of Havana.

The rebels have burned over 100 houses in the town of Punta Brava, near this city. Several persons perished in the flames.

General Pando has been authorized to return to Spain.

AN IMPOSING CEREMONY.

Patron Saint of Madrid Invoked to Suppress Cuban Rebellion.

Madrid, May 5.—This city was the scene yesterday of an imposing religious ceremony, the object of which was to procure the intercession of St. Isidor, the patron saint of Madrid, who lived in the thirteenth century, to bring about the end of the long drought that has done great damage throughout the country, and also to effect the suppression of the Cuban rebellion.

The remains of the saint, enclosed in a silver casket, were carried through the streets, escorted by 500 priests, thousands of religious congregations and the civil and military officials. All carried lighted tapers, and the scene was most impressive, even to those who had no faith in the efficacy of the ceremony.

There were a great many choristers, who chanted litanies as the procession moved slowly through the principal streets. Services will be held for nine days in the cathedral, the object the same as that of to-day's procession. The Queen Regent and other members of the royal family and the ministers will attend. Similar functions have been or will be held in all the towns of the country.

OPENING OF THE VOLKSRAAD.

President Krueger Desires Rest and Peace to be Restored.

Pretoria, May 5.—The Volksraad was opened yesterday afternoon. President Krueger, in his address to the Chambers, reviewed the events of the year. He began by saying that recent events which had been due to malevolence and selfish aims had interrupted the rest and peace of the country.

"It has ever been my object," he further said, "to promote the development and prosperity of the republic in a peaceable manner, and I expect with the full confidence that during this session the Volksraad will assist in restoring rest and peace, so that throughout united co-operation the country may flourish and become prosperous to the benefit of all. Despite its troubles, the country continues to be on friendly relations with the foreign powers."

President Krueger also expressed hope for a closer union with the Orange Free State, and declared that the mining industries of the country were prosperous, the native affairs peaceful and the financial condition of the republic sound.

The Presidents of both Chambers were re-elected.

Indictments for Prize Fighting.

Long Island City, L. I., May 5.—Indictments were returned this morning by the Queens county grand jury against the manager and incorporators of the Empire Athletic club in Maspeth, and the Eureka club in Long Island City, where prize fights have recently been held.

Major Gleason, a prominent New York politician and a high official in Brooklyn, is said to be among those indicted.

Longest Boat on the Lakes.

Escanaba, Mich., May 5.—The new steamer Coraka, which came here from the Cleveland shipyard, left port this morning with its maiden cargo, the largest of any kind ever carried on the lakes. It consisted of 600 net tons of iron ore and it was not loaded deep on account of obstructions it will have to meet. She is the longest boat in service on the lakes, 427 feet.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

REGARDING THE THIRD PARTY.

Will It Be Joined by Old Party Malcontents?—

SILVER SENTIMENT IN COLORADO

The Recent Declarations of Senators Teller and Wolcott—Discontented Republicans in Utah and Montana—Cleveland Democrats.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—[Special.]—The political situation has developed rapidly during the last week. On the Republican side there is now little doubt of the nomination of McKinley. It is also pretty well understood that the financial platform to be adopted at St. Louis will declare in favor of maintaining the existing monetary standard until such time as the remonetization of silver may be arranged for by agreement among the chief commercial nations of the world. The prospects for adoption of a similar platform by the Democratic national convention are brighter than they were, but the contest for control of that convention is still going on with a great deal of bitterness, and it is too early to predict the result with confidence.

The Rebellious Elements.

Assuming that both national conventions declare against free silver, the next question of importance is as to the third party. For some time it was believed that there would be formidable bolts from both of the old parties and that the rebellious elements would join with the Populists and set up a distinctively silver party, which might attain great strength and perhaps become an important factor in determining the result of the presidential election. This view has been abandoned by the best observers here. It is now admitted that the chances favor a continuance of the old party lines, with only unimportant breaks. On the Republican side the rebellion is pretty sure to be confined to two or three mountain states, having not more than 10 or 14 electoral votes at the outside.

Senator Teller's recent speech in the senate indicates very clearly that he will bolt the action of the St. Louis convention if that body declares against free coinage, which it is sure to do. How much of the Republican party in Colorado Mr. Teller can take with him remains to be seen, but the probabilities are that the bulk of it will join the rebellion. Senator Wolcott has written a letter advising against this action, and he will adhere to the old party. But the silver sentiment is just now stronger in Colorado than anything else, and it is expected the vote of that state, under Mr. Teller's leadership, will be lost to the Republicans. Senator Teller is the ablest and most sincere of all the silver leaders. He has an intense feeling on the subject of the remonetization of silver, and it is difficult for him to express himself without shedding tears. He commands universal respect for his ability and sincerity and could probably get out of the Republican party and then get back again, with his influence unimpaired, whenever he chose to return. Senator Wolcott places his party before silver, and he has five years before him in the senate, no matter what happens. He hopes that by that time the silver question will not be the burning issue it now is, and that his ultimate status will be all the stronger for having stood by his party at this juncture.

Nevada and Idaho.

The understanding here is that the Utah Republicans will remain in the party. The Nevada leaders, Stewart and Jones, are already half way out of the party fold, and their state will probably join the silver party. In Idaho Senator Dubois, a young and earnest man, is the strong force, and he declares he will leave the Republicans if they declare against free coinage. Mr. Dubois is manly enough to admit that such action may be a mistake from a personal standpoint, and that he may be the sufferer therefrom. But he says this is not a question of expedience with him. For years he has been telling his people that if they stood by him in the Republican party the party would ultimately do justice to silver. On this basis they have loyally supported him, and if the party now turns its face the other way Senator Dubois feels that he must sever his connection with that organization, so far as national issues are concerned, and join the silver party. To do anything else would, in his judgment, be insincere and unmanly. "I prefer the respect of my people to political honors," says Mr. Dubois. "I want to be able to look every man in my state in the face, and I cannot do that and remain in the Republican party after that party comes out for gold."

In Montana it is not believed there will be a bolt on the part of the leaders, though it is probable the state may be carried by the new silver party. In Oregon, Washington, California, Wyoming and the Dakotas it is not expected a rebellion will be encouraged by the senators or other prominent public men. One or more of these states may be carried by the silverites, but the Republican organization is likely to remain practically intact.

The Republican bolt, therefore, will be confined to two or three mountain and silver producing states. It is not regarded as a very serious matter, and the threat of rebellion is not likely to have much effect in the St. Louis convention.

In Democratic Circles.

There has been a great deal of talk about a bolt from the Democratic party in case the gold men obtain the upper hand in the making of the platform, but as the day of the convention draws nearer the bolt becomes smaller and smaller. According to the expectations of the party leaders here the danger is now confined to two or three states. South Carolina, under the leadership of Senator Tillman, would probably join the silver party. Texas might do so also, or, strictly speaking, a part of the party in that state might desert the Chicago ticket. These are believed to be the only states in the south in which there would be a formal bolt, though in several others a large proportion of the voters might temporarily join the Populist or silver party. Some of the mountain states might leave the Democracy, too, and swell the majority of the third party tickets. Indeed the Republican leaders, and the Democrats as well, are counting upon a pretty large third party vote both in the electoral college and in the next house of representatives. But in neither body is it likely to obtain the balance of power.

If the Cleveland Democrats obtain control of the Chicago convention, the chief direct issue between the parties will be the old question of the tariff, and as between those parties the fight will be along the traditional lines. Interest will then center in the showing which the silverite party may be able to make in the south and extreme west. WALTER WELLMAN.

The Shah's Assassin.

Teheran, May 5.—The man who shot and killed the Shah, Nasr-ed-din, on Friday, is a middle aged follower of the well-known agitator, Djemal-ed-din, who was exiled from Persia in 1891 for subversive teachings. The assassin, whose name, as previously stated, is Mollah Reza, was, subsequent to Djemal-ed-din's expulsion, imprisoned for similar practices, but was released by order of the Shah and finally pensioned. He has confessed that he waited two months for a favorable opportunity to kill the Shah. He frequently approached him in disguise but was unable to carry out his designs. Lately he learned from his nieces, who were domestics in the Shah's harem, of the Shah's intention to visit the shrine of Shah Abdul-Azim for devotional purposes. He then decided to kill him, and went to the shrine on Friday where, after a little difficulty, he gained admission. He then waited for the Shah to approach, and as he did so fired at and fatally wounded him, as detailed in the previous dispatches.

The assassin says that it was his intention to commit suicide immediately after shooting the Shah, but he was seized too quickly. He has given the names of eight persons, who, he alleges, were his accomplices.

Retaliation Doctrine.

Washington, May 5.—In the Senate yesterday, Mr. Perkins introduced a bill that provides that whenever any foreign nation or its colonies shall impose or levy any discriminating duty or otherwise impose any regulation or condition having like effect, upon the vessels, produce, manufactures, etc., of the United States, or shall advance or increase its open or concealed export bounty or premium upon its own produce, etc., above such bounties existing January 1, 1896, the President of the United States shall have power and it is made his duty to declare the same by proclamation, whereupon the Secretary of the Treasury is directed to ascertain the effect of such discriminating duties.

The President is then directed to countervail such discriminating duty by the increase of the rates of duty imposed by law upon such products from such discriminating countries as he may designate, to an amount equal to the discriminating duty imposed against the products of the United States.

How to Treat a Wife.

(From Pacific Health Journal.)

First, get a wife; second, be patient. You may have great trials and perplexities in your business, but do not therefore, carry to your home a cloudy or contracted brow. Your wife may have trials, which, though of less magnitude, may be hard for her to bear. A kind word, a tender look, will do wonders in chasing from her brow all clouds of gloom.—To this we would add always keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house. It is the best and is sure to be needed sooner or later. Your wife will then know that you really care for her and wish to protect her health.

It's all the same, a slight cold, congested lungs or severe cough. One minute Cough Cure banishes them. Colorado Springs Drug Co.

THE GOVERNMENT AND THE PACIFIC ROADS

owned and operated by the State. In some cases the treasury has made loans carrying a small rate of interest and redeemable only after a long period. To other lines gifts have been made outright in the form of land subsidies. Then again the State would itself construct the permanent works of a railway and hand them over gratuitously to a private company which would equip and operate them. This system has been practiced on a large scale. But the favorite method of extending government aid is that of guaranteed interest, that is to say, the treasury undertakes to provide, in the event of a deficit in the receipts of a company, an amount that will secure to the stockholders a minimum interest. It is this which has mainly contributed to impose on the taxpayers an enormous burden.

It was in accordance with a law of this nature that a first guarantee was voted for the benefit of the Paris and Orleans Railway company. The rate of interest thus secured to the stockholders was four per cent on the first cost of construction; the guarantee to continue for forty-seven years. Nominally, the sums advanced under this agreement were loans, for they were to be returned out of the net profits when these should exceed four per cent.

The precedent thus established was followed with [illegible] rapidity, similar favors were bestowed on various companies in succession, and by the end of 1848 the treasury was saddled with a guaranteed interest on a capital of $221,000,000. Nevertheless, the next year the State guaranteed an interest of 4.65 per cent on the construction expenses of new companies for a period of sixty [illegible]

Freycinet programme which provided for the addition of nearly 4000 miles to the French railway system. Under this programme, as definitely regulated by the convention of 1883 the volume of interest guaranteed by the treasury was tremendously expanded.

Now let us note the liabilities in which this method of dealing with railways has involved the government. In 1894 the treasury had to pay by way of guaranteed interest more than $22,000,000. For 1895 the liability is estimated at almost $21,000,000, and this is exclusive of deficits occurring on strictly local lines. Remarkable is the increase during the last twenty years, for from 1864 to 1873 the average sum paid by the State for guarantees oscillated between $5,000,000 and $7,000,000. This extraordinary liability is due to the fact that for a number of years hopelessly unprofitable lines have been built, which no private enterprise would have touched.

"What security, in the shape of stock and general plant, has the State for its advances? It is computed by M. Palletan that as far back as 1882 the Western Railway of France owed the treasury nearly $17,000,000, and its rolling stock and plant were valued at $12,000,000. At the same date the Orleans company owned material valued at $24,000,000, to secure a debt to the government of $12,000,000, while the Eastern company owed $35,000,000, secured by rolling stock worth $9,000,000. Since 1882 great additional advances have been made to these companies, and the margin between their assets and their liabilities to the State has been growing wider every year. Is any improvement to be looked for? May it be reasonably anticipated that the net profits will so increase as to enable the companies to repay gradually a part of the money due to the treasury? This question is answered by the highest French authorities in the negative. Even President Faure, who is disposed to take an optimistic view of the subject, does not deem it probable that the period of repayments will begin before 1900. The truth is that the companies have no interest in increasing their net profits by economical management. Even if under their agreements they might claim, they would be bound to apply the excess to a recoupment of the treasury for the sums already advanced. There is no motive, therefore, for increasing the net receipts, and no effort can be expected to that end.

"Such is the result of state interference with undertakings which belong properly to the field of private enterprise."

This alternative, then, is not especially attractive. The thing might be better done in this country than it has been done in France; but on the other hand, there are objections to it in this country which do not apply in France. It is a very difficult problem, and the simplest solution appears to be the one suggested by Senator Morgan. We do not believe the matter will be settled at this session of Congress, for while the committee's bill is likely to pass the House, we do not think it can get through the Senate.

No more substantial evidence of the real permanence of Cripple Creek values has ever been given than the quickness and vigor with which the work of rebuilding after the double calamity has been carried on. We have heard it asserted that the location of the town was determined before the situation of the mines was known, and that a mistake had been made. In view of present circumstances such a statement seems as absurd as does the suggestion that Cripple Creek has already reached its highest point of population and prosperity, and is approaching close to the period of decline which most people regard as necessary to all mining camps. The people of Cripple Creek, who know the situation better than any others who know the actual condition and the future prospects of the mines better than anyone else can know them, do not believe anything of the sort. They believe that for many years to come the production will be maintained and will even show a steady increase; they believe that for many years Cripple Creek will be the metropolis of a group of thriving and prosperous towns; they believe that business of all kinds is to be [illegible] on a larger scale than ever before and that increased accommodations will be necessary for temporary and permanent residents of the great mining district. In the opening of the Electrical exposition in New York, Governor Morton took out an electric current which discharged a cannon in San Francisco, New Orleans, St. Paul, Augusta, Me., and London. [illegible] the Governor enjoyed the experience, and are glad of it. As a relief from the disappointments of office-seeking there is nothing better than the relaxation of industrial expositions and things of that sort.

The latest refuge of the anti-McKinley men is the hope that he will not have as many votes in a month from now as he has at present. Senator Quay thinks that the friends of the Ohio man will grow less enthusiastic now that they seem to be certain of victory, and so accomplish their own defeat. If the opposition is to be relied on, the preliminary campaign is practically at an end.

Between now and the Republican primaries on Saturday there will be a good deal of work done in the various precincts. The West Side primary is to be at the Ferrin house-house. All the others are to be held at the court-house.

A real estate boom in ashes! There is only one Cripple Creek.

An Old Lady's Secret.

An old lady died not long ago who, during her lifetime, had under all circumstances managed to maintain an appearance of composure and placidity, and who had been the admiration of all who knew her. When her life was almost at an end, her family physician stood at her bedside one day and said:

"Mrs. Brown, I wish you would tell me the secret of your happy disposition."

The old lady looked up at him with an attempt at a smile, and murmured: "I always had patience with fools."—(Philadelphia Ledger.

Its Resources Intact.

Not a single Cripple Creek mine is suspended on account of the fire. In an agricultural country after such a disaster, it would have taken five years to rebuild Cripple Creek to anything like its former magnitude. But the city will go up in its new shape like magic, and with its mineral resources intact.—(Pueblo Chieftain.

Grant's Indifference.

General Sherman, illustrating the difference between his own mental and moral makeup and General Grant's, said:

"When I have arranged my plans and made my dispositions for a battle, I am [illegible] what the enemy may be doing on the other side of the hills. But Grant, after he has made his arrangement, don't care a picayune for what the other side is doing."

A story told by Senator Jones of Nevada and reported in Mr. Willard's "Half a Century With Judges and Lawyers" shows General Grant as self reliant in private life as he was in military.

The general, while walking out in the suburbs of Washington, frequently met a butcher driving a horse to which he took a strong liking. After much negotiation he bought the animal and had it taken to his stable, where one day Senators Conkling and Jones were invited to look at the new purchase.

"Well, gentlemen, how do you like the horse?" asked Grant after the animal had been inspected.

"How much did you give for him, Mr. President?" asked Conkling.

"Four hundred dollars."

"I'd rather have the $400 than the horse," rejoined Conkling.

"That's what the butcher thought," coolly remarked Grant, puffing out a cloud of smoke. "Put him back into the stall, John."

His Rum Rations.

W. J. H. Nourse of Boston, who was a member of General Wolseley's Nile expedition of 1884, tells some interesting stories about it. "Every evening," he says, "we had a ration of Jamaica rum served [illegible] At fir[illegible] we were allowed to carry off our gill, but the men got to saving it up in a bottle for a blow out, and so we were made to drink it on the spot. In our command were five men named Pratt—not one of them related. Four were temperance men and would not take their rum. But Johnny Pratt had no such scruples, and every time 'Pratt' was called he would step up and get the gill. Five gills gave him a pretty good edge, and one day he went up to George Pratt. 'Shay, George, have you any brothers?' he inquired. 'Yes, four,' was the answer. 'Why in thunder didn't they enlist?' Later on, however, several of the other Pratts went into natural history and pickled scorpions and similar reptiles and insects in their rum rations. This Johnny never approved of. It cut off four-fifths of his supplies."

Of what use are forms, seeing at times they are empty? Of the same use as barrels, which are at times empty too.—Hare.

THE MONEY COMING IN.

...ont $10,000 in Relief Work Has Gone to Cripple Creek.

...L BILLS WILL BE PAID.

Car Load of Clothing is Ready to Go Out—Other City News—Trinidad Boys Badly Beaten at Ball Yesterday Afternoon.

...ecretary F. G. Peck of the finance committee of the Cripple Creek relief committee, was feeling good yesterday over the results of his collections. The city subscription is coming in well, showing that there were some of our citizens who were running a bluff when they talked about their money. He has in hand about $1,500 in cash, which is enough to meet all bills contracted by the committee that have thus far been presented. He knows where about $[illegible] more is coming from to pay outstanding bills, but this must be understood, that there is not a dollar left over. The relief work may have to be continued for some time so that the good work of feeding [illegible] may go on.

Mr. Peck says that he finds that a great deal of money has gone to camp from this city for relief work that has never been reported by the committee. He believes that in groceries and in other ways there has been at least $10,000 given out since we last went to press.

None of the money that has gone through lodges and benevolent organizations has been reported, and probably never will be. It has been found that many private citizens helped out in quite a liberal way. The money is going very large sum. The money is going in and every cent will be needed. The ball game will run about $500 in the treasury, the Fremont company gave 10 per cent. of the receipts for the first night, Mr. Bender gave the secretary $25 which were collected at his church Sunday, but if any of the other churches collected they have not yet reported.

On Monday the committee sent up 30 bales of tents that were found in the city. Everywhere it has sent nothing further to Cripple Creek this week. As soon as they are informed, however, that anything is needed it will be sent. If the whole town is broke doing it—Mrs. Goddard and her assistants are getting together a variety of clothing. Last night there were nearly a car of it ready to go out. It will be sent to-day probably. If anyone thinks this old cast-away stuff he is mistaken. A good deal of it is first rate and no one is too shabby for use by a poor and respectable person. Mrs. Goddard says that tramps are [illegible] for the sake of getting it for the suffering. Her facilities are taxed to the utmost, and anyone who has anything should be made to present it. All the members of the committee, men and women, have and are doing splendid work and doing it quietly.

COLLEGE 40—TRINIDAD 10.

Superior Stick Work Wins the Game for the Local Club.

The Trinidad boys proved to be the biggest snap the college team has had this year, in the game yesterday afternoon, the yellow and black were obliged to run up a score of 40 to the Trinidads' 10.

The Trinidads were willing to call the game a victory for the collegians.

Trinidad tried two of her twirlers. The first was hammered out of the box, but the second had a very slow out curve which at first was a little puzzling to the college boys, they soon, however, caught on to the gentleman's delivery and were slow in hammering him from one end of the field to the other. Unnecessary errors by the college are responsible for the Trinidads scoring at all. Shilling and Khart fumbled several grounders before a double play was open and Griffith and March missed flies in the field, which gave the visitors a chance to score. The college opened the game with a lot of scattered hits and before the close of the first inning had a total of twelve runs. The Trinidads were retired in the two three order and the college team proceeded to use the stick to an advantage, and before the close of the second inning had added ten more to their already large score. It was here that the error on the part of the college was responsible for the first score of the Trinidads and in the next inning some more loose playing gave the red and white gentlemen another run. The college, however, by this time had run their men across the plate and were too far in the lead for even a thought of winning to enter the heads of their opponents. In the last half of the fourth Trinidad crossed the plate giving the Trinidads another score. In the opening of the fifth, Gordon, who had replaced Wiles in the box for Trinidad, commenced to do some good work and the college boys were only able to get three runs past third. The cattlemen went to Packard's delivery in great shape for a hit of the fifth, making a number of hits and adding four runs to their score. The sixth inning showed little change for the Trinidads, they only be[illegible] able to score three times. The college, however, were having great fun with Gordon's little out curves by this time and the boys from the coal city kept pretty much on the move, but they stopped further proceedings and went to bat. With a few good hits and a clever base stealing they were able to get three men home before they were all out to go into the field and stop some of the hottest balls they are likely to have to tackle again. It was growing late by this time and it was decided to play only one more inning. The college were only able to get two men on the bases in this inning, owing to a fine fielding by H. Cooley in center. However, closed the Trinidads out in the last half and the game was at an end. Score, 40 to 10.

[illegible] will likely suffer a severe loss.

COLORADO COLLEGE NOTES.

The tennis tournament, Hoover and Bell were chosen to represent the college in the State tournament.

Cecilia Glee club sang two selections at the social given by the First Congregational Church last Thursday.

The students had a fete at Montgomery last evening, for the purpose of making decorations for the Coliseum, for the Carnival.

A Trinidad musician and [illegible] came into the city Saturday and have been busy taking the signs and [illegible] the buildings of the college.

Professor Lawson has been obliged to go to Toronto to fulfill certain engagements. Prof. Mr. H. G. A. Heuer, is to take his place as librarian.

The students feel very deeply the loss of Kraus. His noble Christian character and his strong, uplifting influence are loved and greatly respected by all who know him.

Student Slocum is to give one of the special addresses at the National Christian Endeavor convention, to be held in Boston in July. His subject will be, "Christian Citizenship."

Ginn & Co. are to publish Professor Cajori's second book on mathematics. Prof. Cajori's first book, entitled "History of Mathematics," has already gone through two editions.

The April 24 number of Science, contains interesting articles on "Coin Discs" and "by Roentgen Rays," by Professors Cajori and Strieby. The Professors discussed Professor Frost's interesting experiments on the distortion of coins in

...ecklagraphs, and report that by means of the X-rays they have come to the conclusion that [illegible] not to [illegible] and pennumbras."

Professor Crawford [illegible] papers, which were read before the Optical Society, have been published in pamphlet form. They are entitled "The Persian System of Numerals" and "Notes on Differential Equations in their Relation to Series and Formulas in that System."

Professor Crawford is now at work on what will be a valuable and interesting book, which it is proposed to call "The Physical Geography of Kansas," and will be the most complete and comprehensive work on Kansas ever published.

The account of the people who went to the Garden of the Gods and Colorado Springs differs only from what it would be if I had gone in person to Mrs. Woodward and should have read "Miss Alice Ingersoll's account of the same in a letter to the Garden of the Gods and Colorado Springs Gazette."

Five of Mrs. Peabody's pupils were sent by request to exhibit at the Art Society of Denver. They excited much favorable comment and Mrs. Peabody has been asked to receive the exhibit also by the Denver Society. Her pupils were "A Gloucester Garden" "The Week," "At Harvest Time," "Old Mill," "An Sonnet" and "L'Allegro." Mrs. Peabody's pleasure have been enhanced by a collection for some time at Stetson & Williams', where they are also for sale.

Mrs. Church's reception to the students of last year was one of the most enjoyable of the year. The house was beautifully decorated in college colors, [illegible] very much [illegible] and delicious. Delicious refreshments were served in variety and abundance and the students went through their usual round of jolly college songs. After this, Professor Parsons gave an artistic solo with great effect, Dwight Bailey sang "Lindy," Freemont Gove an exhibition of his [illegible] imitations, Mr. [illegible] a piano solo which was greatly enjoyed, and last but far from least, Mr. Goldsmith gave two of his most [illegible] pieces, the second one imparting a full of expression and rendered with fine effect.

The sad announcement was made yesterday morning that Mrs. S. W. Morrison, wife of Dr. Morrison, had died suddenly at her home during the night. She had been ill for a short time but her condition was not thought to be serious. Dr. Morrison was awakened during the night and found that Mrs. [illegible] was dead. A [illegible] was held at the home on North Weber yesterday afternoon and the remains were taken to Perryville, Mo., for burial last evening. Mrs. Morrison came here only a few months ago as a bride.

The Carleton's.

Sig. Julius Benedict's musical verse on of "The Colleen Bawn," entitled "The Lily of Killarney," will be the attraction at the opera house next Saturday afternoon and evening, when the Carleton will present it with elaboration. "The Lily of Killarney," as the name implies, is an Irish operatic comedy, which has the work of a German, and is incomparably better, musically and dramatically, than all the [illegible] comic operas that set forth with such a wealth of "mise en scene" and such a loud flourish of trumpets. "The Lily of Killarney" was produced in May [illegible] at the Grand opera house, New York, where it made a most pronounced success, receiving the highest encomiums from the public and the entire press. Mr. Carleton with his usual perspicuity decided to take the work on the road. He has surrounded himself with a company noted for vocal and dramatic ability, is undoubtedly the best the popular singer manager has ever controlled. New scenes have been prepared and special scenery painted for the production.

The Fremont Company.

Last evening the Fremont Stock company appeared again at the Coliseum and in spite of many other attractions held their own. They presented "Man and Wife," another play by the author of "[illegible]." The audience was highly pleased, and there was much laughter and shouts of applause. Mr. Fremont played a double role, that of the villain, "Nelson Oak," and "Morgan," a hunchback. His work is always [illegible]. Miss Ella Weaver is a bright soubrette, and was entirely satisfactory in the part of "Chick." The play was well cast throughout. Robert Mc[illegible] is one of the strongest men in the combination.

This evening the company will be seen in "The Noble Outcast." It is a comedy drama and Mr. Fremont will be seen here for the first time in a comedy part. To-night a number of specialties will be introduced.

A New Firm.

As will be seen in another place in this paper the firm of Hadley & Fitzpatrick is going out of business and will be succeeded by the firm of J. S. Tucker & Co. Both of the old members of the firm have found it expedient at this time for personal reasons to retire from business, and have sold one of the largest stock brokerage businesses in this city to Mr. Tucker and associates. Mr. John S. Tucker will have personal charge of the affairs of the new company, and will no doubt continue it as successfully as his predecessors. He was with the First National bank so many years that he is well known to every [illegible] in the city. He will continue the business at the old offices and takes their seat on the exchange.

District Court.

In the second division of the district court yesterday the suit of Ellis vs. The People Mining and Milling company was dismissed at the cost of the plaintiff.

The day was occupied with the suit of Durkee et al vs. Jones, a suit growing out of the closing up of the alley in the rear of Wallace's store. There was a jury trial before the court and the evidence was all in last evening. It will be argued today.

NO MIRACLES

But the Astonishing Results of Fifty Years' Experience and Study Based on Scientific Principles is What Made the Old Shaker Doctor Famous.

Why are so many people sick, doctor? This question opened the conversation between a healthy doctor and a patient.

Fortunately you will take care of your health when you are sick, but the secret for the world is to take care of your health when you are not sick; follow nature's laws and you will live to be [illegible] years. These were the words of good, hard sense, uttered in response to the above question, by one of the most successful and celebrated physicians this country has ever produced, namely, the Old Shaker Doctor.

His great experience and deep learning has taught him that nature must be assisted to do her best again when a person is sick. The Shaker remedies are prepared from Shaker Botanical gardens, that is the plants, herbs and roots from which they are made, at Union Village, Warren county, O., from this source medicines have been furnished for 75 years to the people of America. Sixty cures have been performed in this city since the doctor's arrival, and hundreds among the halls of the Elk hotel from 9 to 11 o'clock every morning, which are [illegible] to prove. Doubt this assertion, but call any morning and be convinced.

A very interesting and instructive lecture and entertainment is given free at the doctor's studio on Pike's Peak avenue every evening.

Mines, Stocks, Investments

Colorado Springs Mining Stock Association.

Colorado Springs, Colo., May 5.—The proceedings at the call this morning were like old times. The market was firmer and higher and in the case of Anaconda, a notable advance in price was made. Bidding was very brisk throughout the entire session. Rumors concerning the sale of the Anaconda mines to a foreign syndicate at a high price was current though nothing tangible could be learned. Trading in the stock was light. It opened at 65, a gain of 7 cents over yesterday's last trade and then jumped to 67½ at which figure it closed. Work, Union, Isabella and Creede and Cripple Creek were the favorite features and were all heavy traders. The first named had transfers for the extent of 20,500 at 10¾ and 10½, recording a slight gain of the preceding day. Union opened at Monday's figures, but heavy buying set it to 39½ and 40 and finally to 40½, where it closed strong, with sales of 12,100 shares. Isabella opened steady with its first transaction at 53. The stock fluctuated between [illegible] and [illegible], closing at the latter. Creede and Cripple Creek was a little higher. Mollie Gibson, Stamped Isabella, Argentum and Portland were higher, Portland selling at one time to 151, but dropped to 139 at the close. Cripple Creek Consolidated, Golden Fleece remained unchanged. In the unlisted shares Buckhorn was stronger with sales of 12,000 at a fractional advance. The market closed firm and steady.

Monon Shaft.

The shaft on the Grand claim, located on the summit of Mineral hill, has reached a depth of 145 feet and the last assays from the vein were $45 gold per ton. The vein is well defined and rock just brought down from the shaft is expected to go much higher. The Grand is one of the properties of the Monon company.

Made Another Payment.

The Arcadia company has just made another payment of $3,000 to apply on the Lone Star No. 1 claim, located in Poverty gulch. One more payment of $3,000 still remains, which will be promptly met when it falls due. The officers of the company are feeling very good over the prospects. The shaft has been enlarged and the new machinery is all in place and will be started for the first time today. Shipments will begin immediately.

Dante Facts.

The Clements lease on the Dante will make a shipment of a small car of ore today to the Brodie mill.

The Little Jeannette lessees believe they have cut the new Dante vein and are very much elated.

All of the drifts being run from the lower levels in the Dante workings proper are still in ore. The company has been registered with the [illegible] Trust company. Stock transfers will still be made at the Dante office as formerly.

Moon Anchor Ore.

The Moon-Anchor company has 55 tons of ore at the Philadelphia smelter at Pueblo, and 65 tons of low grade ore at the Arkansas Valley smelter at Leadville, awaiting treatment.

The erection of the new pumping plant which the company recently purchased, will be begun today. There is now about 70 feet of pump water in the bottom of the big shaft and as soon as this is pumped out the shaft will be resumed and another 100 feet of ore blocked out. The shaft will be continued until a depth of 600 or 700 feet is reached. Shortly a week ago it was said the company received an offer to sell its Moon-Anchor property.

Raven Shipments.

For the week ending May 2, shipments from the Raven company's properties amounted to four cars. Two cars came from the company's workings and were sent to the reduction works at [illegible] and two cars came from the Snowy Range lease and went to Denver.

The lease on the Maid of Erin expired on May 1. The company has not yet decided whether it will work the property itself or release. The Maid of Erin has produced considerable ore in the past.

Will Start Work Monday.

Messrs. Simpson and Paine of Kansas City have purchased a half interest in the Wilmelagh Gold Mining company, and by contract will advance the necessary money for development. Work will commence on Monday next under the supervision of Colonel Hamilton and Herman V. Wertzberger, an old California miner. The present development shows a well defined vein that assays $31 per ton.

Portland Scraps.

The regular monthly meeting of the Portland company, which was scheduled for yesterday afternoon, has been postponed until the 8th inst., a quorum of directors not being present.

The general business offices of the Portland company have been moved from Victor to this city in the Bank building. Hereafter all business of the company will be transacted from this point.

Pharmacist Meeting.

The annual meeting of the directors of the Pharmacist Mining company was held this afternoon and the following directors were elected: Sylvester Johnson, A. D. Jones, A. Henderway, J. W. Miller and C. H. Holliday. F. H. Pettingell, one of the present board, declined to serve.

Resolutions of Thanks.

The following resolutions have been adopted by the members of the Gold Mining and Cripple Creek Stock Exchanges:

Cripple Creek, Colo., May 2, 1896.

To the Members of the Organized Stock Exchanges of Colorado:

At a meeting of the Gold Mining and Cripple Creek Stock Exchanges of Cripple Creek, held this day, the following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, The members of the various Stock Exchanges of the state of Colorado came so nobly and so literally to the relief of our distressed and homeless ones, not only by large and substantial donations of the necessaries we lost in the great conflagration, but also by the expression of a kindly interest and brotherly feeling for us in our hour of distress, and

Whereas, Your prompt action in the matter—not waiting for others leadership, but yourselves leaders—alone saved much suffering, therefore be it

Resolved, By the members here assembled that our hearty and most sincere thanks be extended to those whose bid was given to lessen the terrible effects of the Fire King's visits and whose sympathies were out in the hour of their need to the homeless ones in Cripple Creek, and be it further

Resolved, That while temporarily distressed and badly hampered by conditions, we wish the world to know that we still have unbounded faith in the great natural resources of the district and with the kindly assistance and co-operation of your organized bodies, Cripple Creek will, Phoenix like, rise from its ashes, and in a few weeks resume its place as the King Pin of all mining camps on the continent; that on May 6, or as soon thereafter as suitable quarters can be procured, we will resume daily calls for the transaction of business.

SAMPLING WORKS FOR ALMA

Probability That a Plant Will Be Erected There.

Alma, Colo., May 5.—The State Ore Sampling company of Denver is looking over the ground at Alma with a view of erecting sampling works and possibly adding a pyritic smelter. A decision will be reached in a few days as to the extent of their plant.

Manager Phillips of the Union Investment company has been in Denver for a few days, making tests of ore by mill run with new processes. He announces that the London mine and [illegible] of the largest properties in the state, will be opened upon the 15th inst. The mine is equipped with a 40-stamp mill and tramway, and owns eight miles of branch railroad connecting with the Denver, Leadville & Gunnison.

The placers generally are turning on the water, and night and day shifts will continue the work through the placer season, which lasts in this county an average of four months. A carload of pipes arrived a few days since for the new Buckskin placers and is being rushed into place to carry water to the pits. Plans continue to develop for additional work in the Alma district. The Sweet Home, Jim Blaine, Colorado Springs group and others are to open up, after remaining idle for a lengthy period, continue development and take out ore. All are capable of large production. In this connection, it is rather surprising that like developed properties do not enter the list of operating mines, among them the Golconda group, on Mt. Bross. The group especially shows its nearness to the gold formations, the semi-quartzite strata showing plainly from the Mt. Lincoln side at the surface, below the old Golconda workings. Past workings on the Golconda group has marketed and exposed much good ore, and, like many of its neighbors that shut down when the slump in silver came, a little capital expended in systematic development would make it a paying gold mine, instead of a passable silver property. The Golconda group is owned by A. Weiner of Denver, and consists of four patented claims. The fact that the lower grade properties, of which there are many in the Alma districts, mostly having large ore bodies in sight, are beginning to be sought as milling propositions, is most encouraging to the camp. The ores in most of these properties will average $15 to $20 in gold, and when once the proper process is applied for treatment, will yield enormous wealth and support a populous, prosperous camp. But the ores of Alma districts are not by any means confined to low grade ores. Some of the richest ores mined in the state have come from these districts, and profitable mining was done here and fortunes made at it when the ores had to be hauled to Denver by teams and $40 per ton paid to smelters for treatment.

CENTRAL CITY MINES.

Another Big Tunnel Will Shortly Be Started.

Central City, May 5.—At the National Park lode on Winnebago hill, sinking is being carried on both in the east and main shafts. The main shaft is now [illegible] feet and sinking will be kept up to a depth of 100 feet. In the bottom of the shaft there is a body of mineral about three feet wide, and shipments have been made to the mills, from which good results are looked for. The east shaft is down over 75 feet and there is five feet of crevice matter at this depth which gives average returns of 3½ ounces in gold per cord at the Hidden Treasure mills.

County Clerk Morris Hazard has received instructions, as representative of the Gilpin County Mining and Leasing Syndicate, limited, to commence work on the projected tunnel through which they expect to open their properties. The tunnel will be driven in from the Clear Creek side, at about 250 feet north of the Silver Age mine. It will be a crosscut tunnel, and with a total length of 1000 feet, is expected to cut the veins at a total depth of 500 or 600 feet. Surveying has been finished on the tunnel location, being a total length of 2000 feet, which will at that distance come under the north fork of Clear Creek, and a little beyond Hill's ranch, which is one of the best belts in this county, and when the tunnel has been opened up to a reasonable depth, some promising bodies are bound to be found down the line of the tunnel are 25 lodes, but it is safe to say that fully twice this number will be encountered. In the early stages of the work it will be done by hand drilling, but later air drills will be used, and there is no doubt but that big returns may be expected by the syndicate in the future.

J. Bishop and De Moore of Central City have a promising claim just being opened up in the Lake district, called the State of Maine lode. The shaft is now down 20 feet, and at a depth of 10 feet an assay was obtained which showed values of $30.10 in gold and silver per ton. At the Alva Adams at a depth of 100 feet levels are being extended east and west, and in the former level a large vein of iron has been uncovered, which increases in body, with further distance in from the shaft.

Stoping is being carried on in the east 100 level of the Carroll mine, and in this slope they have a crevice nearly three feet wide. The crevice in the 200 west level is four feet wide, and drifting is being prosecuted on this orb body. The work is being pushed rapidly along, and the management are well pleased with the present outlook.

FISH CREEK EXCITEMENT.

A Greeley Assay Went Over $1,000 a Ton.

Greeley, Colo., May 5.—The excitement at Moodie's camp on the Buckhorn is on the increase and claims are being staked daily. Robert Graham of this city returned from there this afternoon and reports that the greatest excitement prevails and he thinks the miners are justified in their feelings, judging from their find. George Law, a graduate of the State School of Mines, an experienced assayer and mineralogist, who has been working for some years in some of the best camps of Colorado, and but recently from Cripple Creek, says it is equal to if not superior to that camp. He picked up several specimens of croppings on a claim he staked off and a hasty assay shows over $500 a ton in gold, besides good pay in silver. This was what was reported of Mr. Law's assay about two o'clock this afternoon; but since then it has leaked out that the real value of the assay was over $1000 to the ton. And after he had satisfied himself that there was no error he, in company with his father, Dr. Law, started immediately for the camp as fast as two of the fastest horses in the camp could take them. The Mammoth mine, owned by the Greeley syndicate, is the only hole in camp and that is down twelve feet, and is about four feet square, but eight feet from the surface the vein has been struck. It is now four feet wide, but Capt. Moodie thinks it will show a much greater width as he goes lower down. Mr. Law chipped off small pieces across the face of the vein so as to get a general average of its value, and it assayed nearly $500 to the ton. In this vein are large streaks of tellurium which assay up into the thousands. One man who has a claim there was in Greeley last week dead broke. He offered half of it for $25, but could get no takers. Sunday the Greeley citizens drove over to where he is camping and purchased the half for $200, and the miner has been kicking himself ever since for doing it. Since last Saturday night over 100 people from this vicinity have gone to this district, while crowds are leaving Bowlder, Loveland, Fort Collins and the surrounding country daily.

The new camp is very accessible, being only a few hours' drive from either Loveland or Fort Collins, and the roads are in fairly good condition.

PINE CREEK SCRAPS.

Shipments of Ore to the Black Hawk Stamp Mills.

Pine Creek, May 5.—The Wolverine lode, located at Twenty-Mile and which is one of the best mines in the district is making a good showing. It is shipping ore daily to the mills at Black Hawk which averages from $60 to $200 per ton. Mr. F. McGlothlin, the owner of the Wolverine, and who has been in Gilpin county since 1862, has prospected in most every district in the county. The Wolverine shaft is at a depth of 40 feet, and will continue sinking to 200 feet.

G. T. Gibelman has sold the Lafayette group to a Denver party for $2500. The group comprises three claims. They are nothing more than prospect holes, but have good showings.

The Floyd brothers have been offered $10,000 for a quarter interest in the Healer lode. They struck a vein of native copper four feet wide at a depth of ten feet.

T. A. Nickson and Dr. Wheeler, both of Denver, the owners of the Portland, have discovered a streak of ore at a depth of thirty-five feet which runs twelve ounces in gold. This property is located in the Elk park. They intend to sink to sixty feet.

The Train Dispatcher mine, which is at a depth of 1510 feet, a level at 160 feet, has struck a vein of white iron which runs $25 per ton. They will commence shipment May 10.

A. T. Auter and T. A. Auter, in their group on Colorado hill, have discovered, at the depth of fifteen feet, a vein of gray copper which runs $25 per ton. A mill will be placed on the property May 20, and two shifts are at work pushing development. A. T. Auter's property is at the head of Elk park.

The Engrem mine made a shipment today that runs $100 per ton. Four tons will be shipped to the stamps to-morrow.

Current Notes.

The Grouse, on Bull hill, made a shipment of 8400 pounds of ore, which returned $60 to the ton.

Foreman and Smith, who are working the Keystone on Gold, under bond and lease, are getting some good ore at a depth of 75 feet.

The Gold Exploration company is sinking a deep shaft on the Nancy Hanks vein. Contract for 100 feet of work to be done in 90 days, is now under way.

The Dante company will put down the old shaft to a depth of 300 feet and open up the fine vein in first class mining style. Good ore is coming from the development work, but no effort is made to produce.

The Tracy company has put a machinery plant on the Eclipse Hannibal on Tenderfoot, and is now cross-cutting the feather dyke that cuts through that section into the Lincoln Boy country. Assays from the dyke run from [illegible] dollars to $161 a ton.

In the Phoenix, on Gold hill, a good vein has been opened and the rock roasts gold. The shaft was sunk for 80 feet in the granite and came into pionolite. After 20 feet additional sinking the dyke was cut and the ore encountered. The showing at first sight is a good one.

A. F. Johnson is operating on the Allen Goldfields, formerly known as Allen's ranch, Eighteen miles northwest of Cripple Creek. It is a copper district, and the ore many years ago, was mined, carried to Denver in wagons and sold at a profit. The shaft is 80 feet deep.

Frank Ish has been appointed manager of the Chicago Girl company, a new corporation that has bought a group of claims on Four Mile, and purposes developing them extensively. A wide vein that assays a few dollars on the surface outcrops for a considerable distance.

A good vein that assays $42 a ton has been opened in the Mountain Rat, on Red mountain, owned by the Sumpter company. The Lucky Mack on Squaw mountain is being developed in a systematic manner by the Stockmans company. A new shaft to be sunk to a great depth has just been started.

The shaft of the Abe Lincoln in Poverty gulch has reached a depth of 110 feet, and a cut across the dyke from the granite to the porphyry side is now being run. A shipment from the Gloriana lease on the Gold Exploration ground southwest of Victor, will be made soon. The shaft is now down 125 feet, and in good ore. It is believed to be the extension of the Strong vein.

Recent developments made in the Lincoln fully sustain the good opinions formed of the property when it was more in the prospect stage. The shaft is now down 145 feet and the vein shows strong and wide, the ore running better than anything ever before found in the mine. Manager Parfet has ordered a plant of machinery, including pumps, water having come in too strong for the present equipment.

The tunnel being run by Bennett & Myers to cut the Gold Dollar vein and drain Beacon hill is now in 340 feet and is expected to cut the vein in 25 feet more. A change of rock is showing at the breast and some water has been encountered. The success of this undertaking means much for Beacon hill. There are some big mines in that section that have been practically dead for two years because of the unusual amount of water in the hill.

$20,000 a Ton.

Silverton, Colo., May 5.—One of the largest strikes ever made in the Red mountain district was made last Saturday in the 900-foot level of the Genesee-Vanderbilt mine, operated by the Genesee-Vanderbilt company, when a four-foot vein in rich ruby silver and brittle gold was uncovered running as high as $20,000 to the ton. Information regarding which has just been received by your correspondent from a representative of the mine. The ore is so rich that a specimen of the same roasted over an ordinary [illegible] melts into a button of pure metal to fairly boil forth. It is by far the biggest strike ever made in that country, and goes to show that the San Juan is coming to the front in all sections.

The Fullerton Consumption Cure.

Mr. D. P. Davis, a prominent liveryman and merchant of Goshen, Va. has this to say on the subject of rheumatism: "I take pleasure in recommending Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism, as I know from personal experience that it will do all that is claimed for it. A year ago this spring my brother was laid up for bed with inflammatory rheumatism and suffered intensely. The first application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm eased the pain and the use of one bottle completely cured him.

Colorado Springs Board of Trade and Mining Exchange.

First Call.

Colorado Springs, Colo., May 5—A much better feeling was in evidence at the morning call. Business was more active and high prices prevailed. The amount of stock sold was greater than for a long time past. In the mining list, Isabella, Cripple Creek Consolidated and Pharmacist were the favorites. They all sold very firm and in good demand. Isabella had sales of 13⅝ to 23⅝ and Pharmacist, 3,500 at 7⅞ and 8. Cripple Creek Consolidated figured for [illegible] sales at 9 and 13⅞. Union was also stronger at [illegible] and 40, and had transfers of 1,000 shares. Anchoria-Leland was traded in for 200. In the prospective mines, Mutual led sales of 9,000 shares at 3½ and Flow of the West, 4,000 at 1.27 and [illegible] trading in the prospects and miscellaneous was light, the exception being Golden Treasure, which sold for 5,000 shares.

Second Call.

The volume of business at the second call was far less than at the morning session. Trading was dull although the prices did not suffer from this fact. In the shipping mines only four stocks were sold in, the total number of shares being hardly [illegible]. One sale included the prospective mine list and that of no importance. In the prospects and miscellaneous department, Golden Treasure and Vanity Fair were the best sellers. The market closed dull.

The Victor Management.

No change in the management of the Victor is contemplated. If the reported [illegible] is simply a case [illegible] mine will continue to be under the direction of Eben Smith. At present the mine is producing 100 tons of mill ore a day, and the output of first and second grades is holding big. A station for the [illegible] is now [illegible] each way on the mine has been fully 600 feet [illegible] the new ore bodies opened in the fifth and sixth levels.

WEST CREEK SHAFTS.

Prospectors Are Still Pushing Them Down.

West Creek Mining District, May 5—William Huffman, who has obtained a number of specimens containing free gold from a claim recently located on Trout creek, has arranged to sink a 20 foot shaft on the lead showing such indications.

The Florida Mining company has reached a depth of 40 feet on the Black Diamond group. The 50 foot contract for sinking on the Colorado, to which Thunder Butte mountain, has been fitched, and the shaft shows an excellent vein.

The Gabriel Star company has secured buildings and stables at Pemberton and will make that point their headquarters in the future. A picket office for the D. L. & G. railroad will be opened up in connection with the [illegible]. Mr. Gabriel already has the contract for carrying the passengers buying tickets from the railroad company, as well as all express matter coming over the South Park line and the mail from that direction.

The B. & M. shaft near Tyler, has reached the 150-foot level, from which point a cross-cut will be run to the west, the latter having left the shaft some distance above. A Eclipse drill is being used, and about one and a half feet of work is accomplished each day.

Rogers and Wallace have sold the Ivy Inez and Five Kimberly, Cripple Creek and Two Pine claims located southeast of West Creek, El Paso county, to William Schultzdorf, John H. Wood, V. C. Bryant, J. J. Harter, H. H. Miller, J. H. Hill, G. H. Elliot, John Kennedy and F. A. Bowen of Topeka, Kas., and F. L. Bartlett of Colorado Springs. The consideration was $2,000. A force of men will be put to work at once to develop the property.

For every quarter in a man's pocket there are a dozen uses, and to use each one in such a way as to derive the greatest benefit is the question every one must solve for himself. We believe, however, that no better use could be made of one of these quarters than to exchange it for a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy, a medicine that every family should be provided with.
